

About

InsightView.eu is owned by Insightview.eu Aps (private limited company registered in Denmark). Insightview.eu aims at providing thoughtful insights about political, macroeconomic and financial events and trends with speed and frequency. InsightView.eu comments fresh data online.

Global political, macroeconomic and financial news is added into its historical data series (charts) flavoured with historical and could-be parallels. Each data point is commented in global perspective, financial market consensus perspective as well as InsightView.eu's own outlook perspective. InsightView.eu provides its own outlook (scenarios/storyboards) about potential trends in the global financial market and economy. InsightView.eu takes a global top-down approach and makes a subjective filtering of global news flow.

InsightView.eu is a private website and will therefore not hesitate to contradict any main street views among politicians, corporates or financial market participants.
